

RANDOM
DIGIT

Remote Business Backup

Remote Business Backup

What is Remote Business Backup?

Remote Business Backup is a service which takes your current company backup and sends a copy to our dedicated backups servers on the internet.

How would my company benefit from hosting with Random Digit?

With ever-increasing demands for businesses to use computers for all admin functions, the requirement to backup your data has never been so great. With the need to find fault tolerate solutions, we at Random Digit believe we can offer a cost effective alternative to this expensive scenario.

Our team of motivated industry professionals, many from contracting backgrounds, are experienced and used to working on all types of server and software configurations from differing industry sectors. We have the expertise to cover all industry technologies currently in use and our commitment to ongoing training in the latest techniques and technologies helps keep us ahead of our game and provide you with a service that's second to none.

What expectations should we have?

Expectations are sometimes hard to define, but we believe they should be clear and simple at all times. Should you have any problem with your files, you can instantly access them via our web interface.

Random Digit backup all our own backup servers to dedicated servers on a different continental shelf. This provides you will a fault tolerate service which can be recovered from within two hours should the worst ever happen. We can also provide staggered backups of data and files to provide a level of data rollback.

How does it work?

We can either place our own software on your servers or provide you with a location and security credentials to allow you to backup yourselves. We calculate the required storage capacity and the amount of bandwidth your business expects to use and then everything is ready to go.

What will it cost us?

Due the complexity of individual businesses requirements its not practical to detail prices, but for a simple example we charge £96 per month for a 50Gbs space with a projected 10Gb a month transfer.

How do I find out more?

Give us a call on 0800 0 148 504, or email our sales team at sales@randomdigit.net so we can arrange a convenient time to discuss your requirements.

